

My concern is the latest partisan power play from those who favor the Bush Administration to promote their personal choice as a public service message. Namely, Sinclair Broadcasting demanding their stations run a 90 minute "objective news" reportage on John Kerry's participation in the Vietnam War. I believe the showing of the movie is a partisan abuse of Sinclair's position as a broadcaster on public airwaves. Its timing is calculated to try to affect the outcome of the presidential election and is part of a pattern of partisan activity on Sinclair's part.
